Celebrating THE Life Plan Community

Continuing Care Retirement Community. For years this was the term used to describe a senior living community like Redstone. For a time, this term seemed to well describe who we were and what we did. In recent years, however, consumers and prospective residents began to question the term. We heard things like - “I don’t need continuous care!”, and, “Retired? I’m not retired!” Perhaps it was time for a new term to describe our communities.

In November of 2015, Leading Age, an organization representing thousands of not-for-profit aging services providers, announced “Life Plan Community” as the new description to replace the Continuing Care Retirement Community (CCRC) moniker. After a multifaceted two-year process Leading Age determined that the name Continuing Care Retirement Community no longer adequately described the role of non-profit senior organizations in today’s environment. Life Plan Community better defines who we are and what we do. “Those we serve are planners; they are self-directed, and the expanded services we provide better fit their life plan. Leading Age affirms that Life Plan Community resonates better to our current seniors and the next generation of potential residents, and we embrace this new terminology,” states Linda Dickson, Corporate Director of Marketing &

Sales at Redstone. No matter what your goals are for the “third half” of your life, senior living communities like Redstone provide opportunities to live out that life plan.

The role of communities like Redstone has been evolving to better meet the needs of those served. The scope of services available by not-for-profit senior living organizations has grown far beyond the medical model it once was years ago. This is evidenced by the expansion of services within our organization. Our villa home program, Colonial Estates, appeals to individuals who like the combined benefits of a safety net provided by the availability of healthcare with the freedom of not having to manage all the day-to-day tasks that come with home ownership. Home Health and Hospice services provided by Senior Independence expand our ability to deliver services to individuals wherever they call home. Our newly launched fitness memberships, Stay Well and Be Well, extend programs already available to residents and to seniors who are non-residents. Memberships include individualized wellness programs for those who choose to take a proactive approach to their health and quality of life.

At Redstone, we are embracing and celebrating the Life Plan Community term to describe who we are and what we do. We are grateful for the opportunities that we have to serve our residents who are living out their life plan, and we look forward to assisting future residents and others as they plan lives of health, vitality, and quality. It is your life. It is your plan. Redstone hopes to be your Life Plan Community!

Message from the CHAIRMAN & CEO

Singer-songwriter Bob Dylan penned these well-known lyrics back in 1964, but they couldn't be more true today:

Come gather 'round people
Wherever you roam
And admit that the waters
Around you have grown
And accept it that soon
You'll be drenched
to the bone
If your time to you is worth savin'
Then you better start swimmin'
or you'll sink like a stone
For the times
they are a-changin'

When the doors of our nursing home opened 36 years ago, who would have imagined the changes that we have witnessed over the years? Redstone has flourished as that original nursing home grew to three Life Plan Communities offering Independent Living in apartment and villa home settings, personal care, and memory care. Through our affiliate organization, Senior Independence, we are able to offer Home Care, Home Health, and Hospice to support the needs of our residents and the larger community, truly making Redstone an Aging Services Network of excellence.

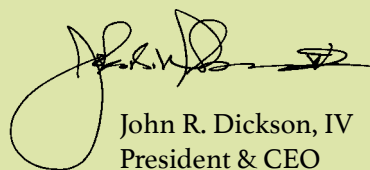

Much of 2015 was spent preparing for the next wave of changes that will impact The Harbor, our Nursing and Rehabilitation Center in Greensburg, the heart of Redstone's mission. Traditional nursing homes that served a multitude of needs for those who would spend months or even years there are becoming a thing of the past. Organizations that try to maintain that model will probably not survive.

Even while we continue to take care of residents in need of long-term skilled care in our nursing home, Redstone will need to become a highly skilled provider in specialized areas. Because of this, we have developed a successful program of orthopedic rehabilitation. Our short-term rehabilitation "guests" spend just days with us at Redstone before they return to their homes and lives. In April of 2016, the Centers for Medicare & Medicaid Services will launch the CJR Project: Comprehensive Care for Joint Replacement. This new program will hold hospitals accountable for the quality of care they deliver to Medicare beneficiaries for hip and knee replacements. Sixty-seven geographic areas, including Western Pennsylvania, will be part of this project. Hospitals and Skilled Nursing Centers must work together to assure high quality in order to be successful. The goal is to provide better care, spend health care dollars more wisely, and make people healthier.

Our Redstone leaders, along with our Board of Directors, have worked tirelessly over the past months to establish protocols and standards of excellence that would position us to be a desirable partner for local hospitals and orthopedic surgeons. We anticipate that the Joint Replacement Project will be followed by other opportunities to partner with local healthcare providers for specialized treatments and services. Our success in developing an uplink strategy with these providers is critical.

Redstone has emerged as a leader in Westmoreland County as the CJR project prepares to move forward. This will allow us to continue our tradition of providing quality care to those in need of our services, and to remain financially viable in this changing health care payment environment. As always, we are grateful for your confidence, trust, and generous support as we navigate these seas of change.

Our Mission Statement

Redstone Presbyterian SeniorCare is a Christian, non-profit organization open to all faiths, that is dedicated to providing living alternatives and high quality services that help to meet the changing needs of the community.

Our Vision Statement

Redstone Highlands will be recognized as the premier provider of dynamic senior care services and programs in its service area. Redstone Highlands will earn this position of trust and respect by consistent achievement of financially viable, well-managed facilities and services that insure high quality, healthy and caring environments in which to live, work and volunteer.

PRACTICING STEWARDSHIP

THE DELIVERY OF BENEVOLENT CARE AT REDSTONE

One of the most critical issues that Redstone addressed in 2015 was the growth in need for Benevolent Care and stewardship practices related to addressing this growth.

When a person wishes to become a resident in a Life Plan Community such as Redstone, a review of that person's assets and life expectancy takes place. This qualification process determines if the assets will provide for the future resident's care throughout their anticipated lifetime. Redstone has enjoyed a tradition of serving residents from many walks of life, not just the wealthy, through deposits and monthly fees that are modest in comparison to other communities. Despite careful planning, sometimes our residents will outlive their financial resources. Redstone promises, however, that when a resident depletes their assets through no fault of their own, they will continue to receive the quality care needed for the rest of their lives.

Over the past few years, the need for Benevolent Care has increased significantly. In part, this is due to the good quality of life enjoyed by Redstone residents. Thanks to an active lifestyle, access to supportive care, good nutrition, and strong social engagement, many will outlive the life expectancy projected for them by insurance actuarial tables. This is the primary factor that leads to the need for Benevolent Care. Other residents have experienced serious investment losses during the economic challenges of the past decade. Anticipated growth in investments, pension, and social security has not occurred. Additionally, we cannot overlook the increased cost of healthcare and prescription drug prices that cripple our seniors. These factors can combine to create that perfect storm that leads to an increased need for charitable care.

While Redstone tries to meet as much of the charitable need as possible through donations, in reality much of our Benevolent Care expenses must be incorporated into the annual operating budget. Therefore, it is critically important that Redstone practices good stewardship with the distribution of Benevolent Care to residents with charitable need.

In 2015, several changes were instituted within our Benevolent Care programs to help ensure good stewardship practices. Our Campus Directors in our three communities are taking a more active role in the process. When a resident or their family believes that they are within six months of depleting all assets, they should have a visit with the Campus Director. Together they will fill out the applications for Benevolent Care and begin the review process needed for approval. The Campus Directors will also meet annually with each resident receiving Benevolent Care, along with their family or representative.

Sometimes a resident receiving Benevolent Care will be asked to relocate to a different apartment or even a different Redstone location. As an example, a resident who moved to a two bedroom apartment as part of a married couple now finds themselves widowed and a recipient of Benevolent Care. They may be asked to relocate to a smaller apartment.

Redstone's most significant Benevolent Care costs are experienced in the Courtyard or Terrace Personal Care communities. Therefore, several programs have been put in place to assist residents who may be able to remain in an Independent Living environment with home care support. Home care is provided and managed by Senior Independence, Redstone's partner in Home Care, Home Health, and Hospice. Because care is provided by personal care aides instead of licensed nursing staff, the cost is more affordable than the Personal Care environment. This can help residents to preserve their assets and lessen the cost of Benevolent Care.

To further practice stewardship in the distribution of Benevolent Care, Redstone has made the difficult decision to make the "Personal Care Plus" level of care unavailable to those receiving Benevolent Care.

"What a blessing
it is to know that the tradition of Benevolent Care is part of Redstone's mission."

This is a boutique level of enhanced care provided in Redstone's Personal Care communities. Residents in need of this level of care usually meet the eligibility requirements to receive long-term care in a skilled nursing home, which is reimbursable by Medicaid for those who qualify. By transitioning Benevolent Care residents in need of this significant level of physical support and care to the Nursing Home, Redstone is able to reduce the cost of the free care that is provided to these residents. While the move to the Nursing Home has been of concern to some families, others have found that their loved one has thrived in this environment.

Although these changes have not always been easy, they are helping to achieve our goal of practicing good stewardship and reducing the funds being consumed by Benevolent Care. In January, the cost of direct Benevolent Care was reduced from $150,000 in 2015 to $120,000 in 2016. As we continue to move forward, we will see further reductions which will help to ensure that the Redstone Promise of Benevolent Care can be kept for many years to come. Residents and their families should feel confident in this promise. In Redstone's 35-year history, only one resident was ever asked to leave for financial reasons. This was due to significant lapses in the practice of personal stewardship which the resident and family refused to address. Fortunately, most of our residents are deeply committed to practicing stewardship of their personal resources with the hope that Benevolent Care will not be necessary. Still, when that need does arise, what a blessing it is to know that the tradition of Benevolent Care is part of Redstone's mission.

Throughout this process, Redstone has been in close communication with our regulators (the Department of Health and the Department of Welfare) and leaders in the field of senior care to guide us in our decisions. Our goal must be to provide the best care possible at the most fiscally responsible price. It takes the "wisdom of Job" to make decisions like the ones we have been required to make as we review our charitable care policies and procedures. But we must never lose sight that we are responsible for stewarding resources for the 500+ residents entrusted to our care. Managing the costs of Benevolent Care is one very important element of that stewardship.

The Not-For-Profit Difference at Redstone Presbyterian SeniorCare

Does it make a difference that Redstone is a not-for-profit aging services network?

YES!

As a not-for-profit, Redstone is committed to our mission of providing living alternatives and high quality services to seniors. Not-for-profit providers of aging services offer a commitment to quality that stems from a mission of service and a history of compassion.

No one owns a not-for-profit organization in the way that shareholders own a for-profit senior living organization. Redstone is overseen by a Board of Directors whose members volunteer their time and talents and make monetary contributions to help support Redstone's charitable activities. Redstone's Board manages our financial resources in accordance with our mission. Redstone was founded by local churches, with a tradition of service to others. These long-standing values are incorporated into our organization in our management and day-to-day care of those whom we serve.

Not-for-profits like Redstone have been at the forefront of improving services for seniors, pioneering new concepts in home and community based services, and changing culture within our communities. Not-for-profits have driven important reforms, including reductions in the use of restraints and psychotropic drugs in nursing homes. According to the national organization Leading Age, results from 82 studies that compared not-for-profit and for-profit aging services organizations and nursing homes found that the not-for-profits produced superior outcomes on the many quality measures. Recently, new statistics from the federal government show that not-for-profit nursing homes provide the highest level of care when compared to those under other types of ownership.

As a non-profit, Redstone has an obligation to serve the community. Through a generous program of Benevolent Care, hosting programs open to seniors from the community, supporting local charities, sharing our facilities, sponsoring educational programs, nurturing volunteerism, and employing a strong consumer workforce that impacts the region, Redstone lives out its commitment to community service.

Redstone exists not to create revenue, but to create better options for those whom we serve. Our residents know that we are setting high standards for quality and we are focused on improvement for the future. Our true bottom line is not an annual profit, but the satisfaction of our residents and an external community that values Redstone's mission.

Benevolent Care

In 2015 Redstone provided $1.5 million in direct and $1 million in indirect Benevolent Care to residents in need. Direct Care supports Independent & Assisted Living residents who have depleted their assets through no fault of their own. Indirect Care forgives the difference between the Medicaid reimbursement rate and the true cost per day of the stay for residents in the nursing home.

Redstone Gives

Residents and employees come together to raise money for several local charities. In 2015, the program contributed $1,094.00 to the Alzheimer's Association, $1,354.50 to the American Cancer Society, $1,335 to Benevolent Care, $1,147 to the Pennsylvania Wounded Warriors, $631 and 603 lbs. of food to the Westmoreland County Food Bank, and $1,235 to the Westmoreland County Humane Society.

Community Service

Redstone employees served the community by acting as mentors for college students, working with interns, serving on local boards and organizations like the Rotary, and in many other ways.

Senior Independence Outreach

Senior Independence sponsors blood pressure checks and opportunities to talk with nurses in community settings including Redmont Village, Pershing Square, and the Norwin Resource Center. Senior Independence also offers bereavement support groups and other programs open to the public.

Fitness Programs

Redstone offers a number of fitness and wellness programs. Two membership-based programs are free and open to the public. The "Be Well" program provides support, education, and a pathway to successfully living with chronic illness. The "Stay Well" program is designed for those who want to take a proactive approach to their health and quality of life. For more info call Rachel Jablonsky at 724-832-8402 Ext. 390.

Lifelong Learning

Redstone lives out its commitment to lifelong learning through sponsoring nurse aid training classes, CARE programs allowing maintenance or culinary team members to advance their skills, CPR training for employees, and a partnership with Goodwill Industries of SW PA that offers qualified high school students an opportunity to work with a job coach to prepare for a transition to the work force.

Dom Bruno, a Transition WORKS! student from Penn Trafford, has successfully completed the first two levels of the Recipe for Success program. Recipe for Success is the culinary mentor program associated with Transition WORKS!

Generous Volunteers

In 2015 our volunteers gave 5,070 hours of their time to Redstone by working in the gift shops, reading to visually challenged residents, leading sing-a-longs, teaching classes, and in many other ways. We thank all of our volunteers who have given so generously of their time and talents!

We are always seeking new volunteers to serve in many different ways at Redstone. Positions are also available for Junior Volunteers interested in learning more about healthcare. For more information, please contact our volunteer coordinator at 724-832-8402 Ext. 307.

Groups Welcome

Red Hats, retirement groups, card clubs, crocheting ladies and others enjoy using Redstone's space as guests from the community.

Flu Protection

Redstone employees are fierce about their annual flu shots. The elders we care for at Redstone are particularly susceptible to the flu. By getting vaccinated, employees not only help to protect themselves, more importantly they are protecting the fragile elderly for whom they care. Redstone's annual flu shot campaign takes place in the early fall each year. Employees and residents have opportunities to receive the vaccination. To protect yourself and the elders you love, talk to your doctor about getting a flu shot.

Dear Friends,

Did you or your children grow up watching Mr. Rogers Neighborhood?

I certainly did. How I loved the daily visits through the TV. I think that the show was all the more special to those of us from Westmoreland County, the place that Fred Rogers called home. I especially loved the songs that Fred wrote and would sing as part of the show.

One of my favorites went like this...maybe you remember it, too.

*There are many ways to say I love you.
There are many ways to say I care about you.
Many ways, many ways,
Many ways to say I love you.*

*There's the singing way to say I love you.
There's the singing something someone really likes to hear.
The singing way, the singing way,
The singing way to say I love you.*

Here at Redstone, GIVING is a way in which love is revealed. In the pages of this report, you find the names of so many people who have shown their love through making generous contributions. Residents, their families, our employees, our Board members, friends from the community, Foundations, Churches, Businesses... the list goes on and on. The common thread is that all have offered a wonderful expression of LOVE through their gifts.

Through these generous contributions, you send a powerful message to our residents past, present, and future. Simply put, that message is...“You are loved.” These gifts are creating the beautiful environment in which our seniors can be loved and cared for through the rest of their lives, even when their personal financial assets have been depleted.

There are many ways to say I love you. Thank you for showing your love to our residents through your generous support.

Gratefully,

Lisa M. Doemine

Friends:

The “Friends of Redstone” provide a backbone of support for all that we do. We are grateful to the former residents, the family members of current and former residents, former employees, the community leaders, and all those who simply believe in the Redstone mission, who have given generously. These gifts, along with your prayers and encouragement, sustain us.

Board of Directors:

Redstone Highlands is blessed by the completely voluntary service of a creative and concerned Board of Directors. In addition to their time, members of the Board also make generous gifts to support Redstone's mission. Our thanks for all that they do cannot be expressed strongly enough.

It's a Small, Small World

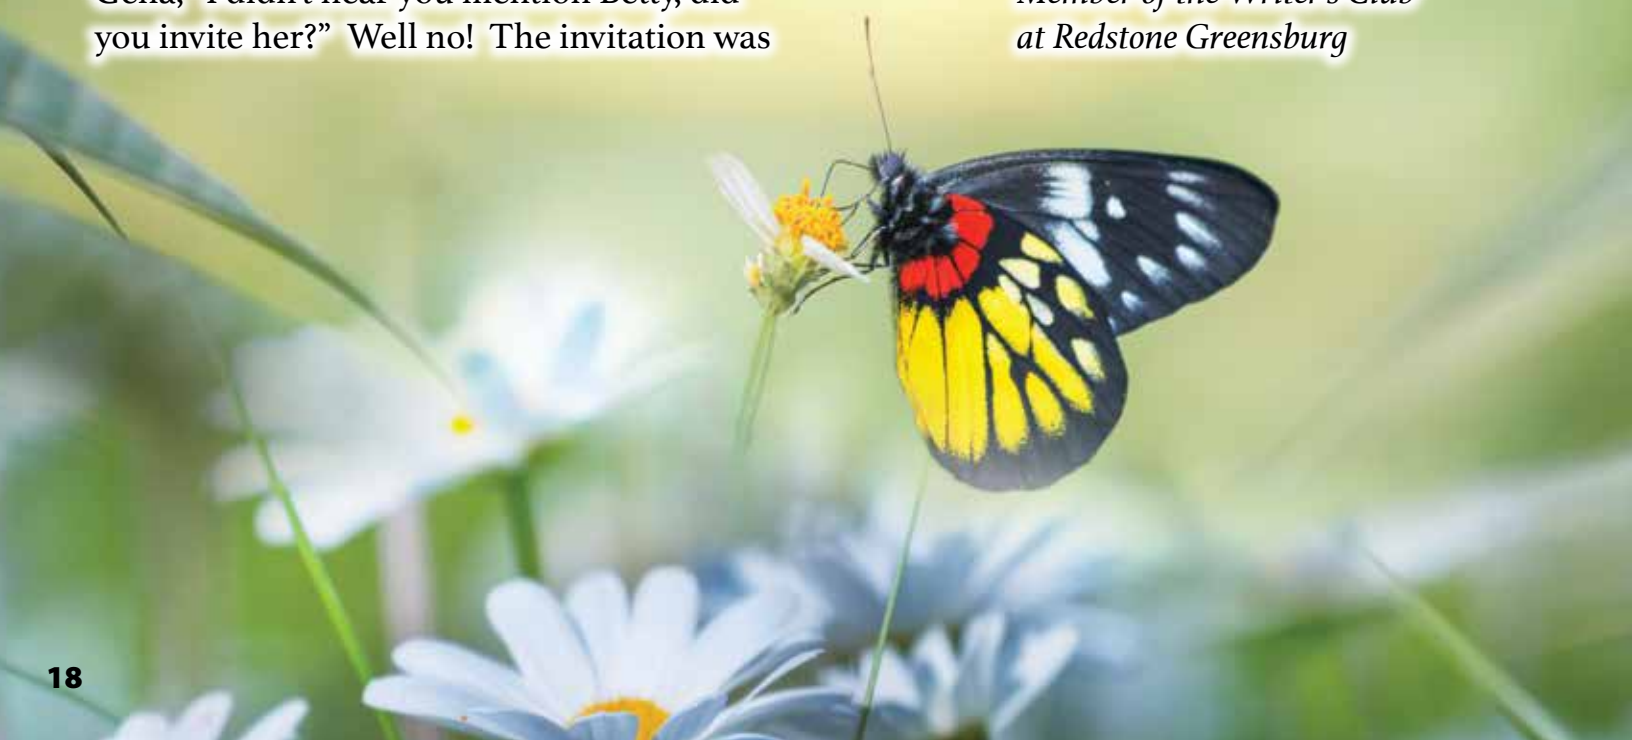

When I invited two friends to lunch, Daryl immediately asked, "Have you met Alice and Gena yet?" Of course I had met them but hadn't gotten to know them well. Daryl and I decided we should all get together. Later I talked to Vi and she was surprised to learn a long time friend, Betty, had moved into Redstone. So she was added to our group. Then along came Louise and our group was complete.

As time went by another luncheon date was set, but the planner, being somewhat forgetful only invited five until gently reminded by Gena, "I didn't hear you mention Betty, did you invite her?" Well no! The invitation was done hastily, at the last minute, Betty with good humor and understanding accepted. Now how will everyone be remembered for future luncheon dates? Let's just call the group "The Magnificent Seven" and no one will be overlooked.

That's the charm of living at Redstone; old friends and new friends become closer because of shared friendships. And to be gently reminded when memory fails is a blessing we all take for granted.

Touch the Future with Hope

Become a member of the Toman Legacy Society

"Life is about more than today, and more than yourself. What will your legacy be? Creating a legacy does not have to be a burden, it can be your joy and can create your satisfaction with living each day. What can you do today to help create that world?" Jonathan Lockwood Huie

Thinking creatively about your estate allows you the opportunity to create the world's future. Your financial legacy stands as your final witness to the world and to those whom you love. What is important to you? How do you want to shape the future?

There are many ways to leave a Legacy gift. The easiest, is to have your attorney attach a CODICIL to your will that indicates simply that you wish to make a gift to Redstone Highlands. You may designate either a specific dollar amount, a percentage of your estate, or the residual of your estate. The language should say,

"I give, devise, and bequeath to Redstone Presbyterian SeniorCare

The sum of $ _____

_____ % of my estate

Or

All the rest, residue, and remainder of my estate."

You may simply add a letter to your records here at Redstone indicating that if you pass away before your initial deposit has been depleted, that you would like to donate the residual.

Perhaps you would want to consider the following possibilities as you think about your legacy:

- Most of Redstone's Legacy Gifts do come in the form of a simple bequest. Some will use a codicil to indicate that they want to remember Redstone with a certain dollar amount in their will, or that they want to give a certain percentage of the residual of their estate once all of their obligations have been settled. Either way, this gift is a wonderful way to provide support for Redstone's residents.
- Although most Redstone residents live for many years after making their home here, some have unexpected health issues and pass away while a portion of their initial deposit remains.
- Some residents have chosen to make a Legacy gift by naming Redstone as the beneficiary of an insurance policy or a retirement account. This may also provide a positive tax benefit during your lifetime!
- Another way to provide yourself with a benefit during your lifetime is to establish a Charitable Gift Annuity. This may provide you with some tax savings, an income stream for the rest of your life, and an ongoing fund providing support to Redstone after your death.

As we try to practice being good stewards of the resources we have, sometimes we are unable to make the charitable gifts we would like during our lifetimes. Planning for a legacy gift provides us with the opportunity to do great good with the resources that are left once we know longer have need of them. It can be a joy to plan a legacy that will touch many lives.

To talk more about the legacy that you want to leave, contact Lisa Dormire, VP for Mission Support at 724-832-8400 Ext. 353.

The names listed in this Celebration of Giving all made gifts between July 1, 2014 and June 30, 2015. While we have made every effort to ensure the accuracy of this publication, mistakes do occur. Please advise us of any error so that we may correct our records.

Could your gift be a double blessing?

If you or your spouse work for a company that provides matching gift opportunities, your gift to Redstone Highlands may be doubled or even tripled! Some companies even extend their matching gift programs to retirees. The following is a list of some of the companies that may provide such matching gift opportunities: AT & T, AK Steel, Allegheny Technologies, Aramark, ALCOA, Equitable Resources, Fisher Scientific, H.J. Heinz, Merck, Merrill Lynch, Peoples Gas, Prudential Financial, Sprint, PNC, PPG, Verizon, Westinghouse, Highmark, and others.

Join the fun as Redstone Goes!

Redstone is pleased to offer fun and reasonably priced travel activities for residents, prospective residents, employees, and friends of Redstone through the Trips & Tours Club and the Redstone Goes Mission Support Program. Day trips are hosted by the Trips & Tours Club. A summer mystery trip is scheduled for Friday, June 17th. The adventure will include some historical sites, good food, and unusual settings. On Wednesday, October 5th the Club will offer a Mountain Rail Adventure and Theater trip to Elkins, WV. The day will include a train ride, some spectacular waterfall views, a theater experience, and dinner.

Overnight tours are organized by Redstone Goes as an effort of our Mission Support Team. The price of each trip includes a modest donation to support charitable care at Redstone. Last fall, a group enjoyed a wonderful trip to Chicago where they got to see the Pirates take on the Cubs and win. This spring, an overnight trip to Washington DC provided a great chance to see the Cherry Blossoms. On Monday, August 1st there will be an overnight trip to Lancaster, PA where travelers will enjoy some Amish food and sites, along with an opportunity to see the new show Samson at the Sight & Sound Theater. In November, a 3 night adventure to the Smoky Mountains will depart on Thursday, November 17th. Two dinner theaters, a day at Dollywood for the Christmas Spectacular, and other adventures will provide lots of moments to remember.

Trips are designed for the enjoyment of all ages, but most of our travelers are 55 or better! For more information or to get your name on the mailing list for these and other travel opportunities, please contact Pam at 724-864-1429
