and 2020

in a YEAR WHEN EVERY PERSON MATTERS

Dear Friends of Redstone,

Originally, this publication was planned for the Spring of 2020, and was to highlight fiscal years 2018 and 2019. The report was almost ready to go to print when we started to hear rumblings of a new viral pandemic in far-away places. Within weeks, life as we knew it at Redstone was turned upside down. Clearly, COVID significantly delayed our completion of this publication. Our resources and energy were diverted to the crisis that was at hand. And so now, this report also includes fiscal year 2020, and tells more of our story of life during COVID.

The pandemic brought many challenges for Redstone. The past year and a half has taken a physical and emotional toll on our residents, their families, and our employees. It has tested our stamina and our compassion. It has brought financial hardship to many. It has brought out the best in many of us, too.

Redstone acted swiftly in the face of this crisis:

- We closed to visitors before required by the Department of Health.
- We learned about sheltering-in-place across all levels of care.
- We set up negative pressure rooms to address potential cases of COVID-19.
- We screened all employees, vendors, and visitors for wellness upon arrival every day.
- Our cleaning practices became even more vigilant.
- We introduced a personal shopper service to reduce resident risk.
- Our lifestyles team and chaplains quickly learned to deliver programs over closed circuit television and at the bedside.
- We developed a robust program of Skype and Facetime to keep families in touch with residents.
- We used a variety of communication channels to maintain transparency and keep our residents, staff, and families informed.

- We welcomed "window visitors" who come to our campus just to catch a glimpse of their loved ones, and we facilitated in-person visits whenever infection levels allowed.
- We gathered the necessary PPE for our employees, and, thanks to a host of volunteer sewers provided cloth masks to all residents.
- When advised by the state, we conducted universal testing of all of our residents and employees. Over the past year we have done more than 22,000 COVID tests on residents and employees.
- We responded quickly and aggressively to control the spread of COVID when we had positive cases in our communities.
- We made sure that Redstone and all of our residents across levels of care were provided the opportunity to be vaccinated as soon as possible, and coordinated clinics for hundreds of residents, employees, and friends of Redstone. We have continued to be vigilant in our efforts to make sure that a high percentage of our communities are vaccinated.
- We opened our doors to in-person visits in our clinical units as soon as was possible, and have carefully followed state protocols for safe visiting across these units.

We know that our ability to come through this crisis in a position of relative strength was because of our past years of successes. This success provided the groundwork for stability, even in uncertain times. Although at times it is hard to focus on anything but COVID, we are grateful that over the past years we have:

- Increased census on our Murrysville and North Huntingdon campuses by introducing a rental program in our Independent Living Apartments;
- Managed more than 600 admissions and discharges annually from our Skilled Nursing and Rehabilitation Center in Greensburg;

- Taken on management for the Redmont Condominium Association in Greensburg and began purchasing condominiums there as they became available. To date, we have purchased more than 25% of the properties. This connection with Redmont provides us with a unique opportunity to develop a villa community similar to what is found on our North Huntingdon campus;
- Launched a new health benefits program through the Empower3 Clinic as an affordable primary care option for our employees;
- Received recognition as preferred providers for both UPMC and Allegheny Health Network, and became a part of the Bridges Accountable Care Organization;
- Planned for and launched 5 Star Staffing, an affiliate agency to help us meet the staffing needs for Redstone, and eventually, other organizations in the area.
- Strengthened our scholarship program to address critical staffing shortages by offering scholarships for RN, BSN, and RN to BSN programs, along with HVAC technology programs.;
- Surveyed employees for concerns and launched an Anchor Initiative in an effort to better support challenges experienced by our workforce. As part of this initiative, we engaged a half-time Employee Resource Specialist to help employees address childcare, housing, and utility concerns, health and wellness issues, food insecurity, etc. We provided grants and no-interest loans to employees in crisis situations through our HOPE Program;
- Achieved our third 5-year CARF Accreditation;
- Begun planning for a new Brownstone development project for our Murrysville campus; and
- Expanded our Redstone@Home Hospice footprint into Fayette County.

These accomplishments have built an organization that is ready to weather a storm—even the COVID crisis. We have a passionate and dedicated employee team. We have the trust of our residents and their families. We have an administrative team that is able to nimbly respond to even the most unprecedented crisis situation. We have a Board that is encouraging and thoughtful. We have a supportive contingent of donors. Every success of the past, every challenge we have faced, every person who has been a part of the Redstone story, matters. More today than ever.

As we continue to pass through this season of COVID, we still have challenges to face. We struggle with workforce shortages, changes in the ways that we receive payment through insurers, Medicaid funding that does not keep pace with inflation, along with the continued financial, emotional, and physical recovery from the COVID crisis. But we face these challenges as a strong organization – and that makes all the difference.

As always, we are grateful for all that you have done to support our mission. We face the future from a position of optimism, and courage—in large part because of the support and the encouragement that we receive from you.

May God's blessings continue to be with all of us.

EVERY PERSON is WELCOME

Throughout the spread of COVID-19, Redstone has adjusted day-to-day life with new precautions for operations and activities, but the community's neighborly spirit is no different. Redstone has even been able to—very carefully—welcome new residents to our campuses in the spring.

For Nancy Nemes, who came to the Greensburg campus on April 24, 2020, the transition was not what she expected while planning her move, but each new week brings a little bit more of normal life in her new community.

"When I first got here, there were a lot of things to relearn," Nancy says. She spent her first two weeks in quarantine due to safety regulations and took that time to focus on organizing and unpacking her new home, since she wasn't able to start meeting her neighbors just yet.

Then, as May arrived, she began building her community with Greensburg residents. "You have to be on your toes," Nancy says, since meeting new people isn't quite the same as before. There are fewer people gathered together at a time and new faces are hidden by masks, but she still has loved getting to know everyone.

For meals, seating is limited, and residents schedule their specific dining time each day. Nancy usually makes sure to call a friend to join for dinner. "You are flexible and make it work," she says. "Having a restaurant and so many things right in the building, I kept myself with the thought that I'm on a big cruise ship in the middle of the ocean."

Nancy decided to join the Redstone community because the Greensburg residence is close to her daughter, and Nancy enjoyed the campus since she first visited. "Redstone was a bright and happy place. People greet you, and I like that it has a Christian atmosphere," she says.

With each week, more activities and services are able to resume for residents to experience safely. The beauty shop's grand reopening was quite the day, Nancy says. "Once we had the beauty shop back, it was so nice. They are essential but don't have the title!"

Just a few weeks into her move, she joined the group that meets on the second-floor balcony to chat in the evenings. "It's been a lot of fun talking to them, getting to know them, talking about the old times. It's been delightful," she says.

Nancy is looking forward to the coffee hours, games, and other events and trips that have yet to return, but the true bond of residents at Greensburg continues through it all—for new neighbors like her and those who've been here for years.

"The most important thing is meeting new people and learning their history," she says. "It's amazing. Everybody has a story. I enjoy going back and listening to all of the events of their life."

EVERY PERSON

A we celebrate our 40+1 anniversary, we are thrilled to have "pioneer" residents in our midst. These pioneers stepped out in faith and became the VERY FIRST residents in the Murrysville community when it opened in 2002. At the time that we were first preparing this article, seven of those pioneers remained: Jean Barnett†, Lois Alworth, Judy Barry, Barb Melvin, Eleanor Fulton, Marge Landfried, and Rosemary Scala. Sadly, Jean Barnett passed away over the past year.

We gathered our Murrysville pioneers together to talk about what it's been like as the first residents to live on a campus, and they recalled some reasons they were attracted to Redstone in the first place. The availability of continuing care as residents' needs change was at the top of the group's list, as was the benevolent care provision. It also meant a lot knowing they would still be close to the hub of the Murrysville community: restaurants and shopping areas, as well as the interests and social groups they had enjoyed while living in their own homes. Lois, for example, had long been a tour guide at the historic McGinley House nearby and knew she would still have easy access to those friends. A few of the other reasons for choosing Redstone, naturally, were more personal. For Barb and Judy, it was important to know they could bring their beloved dog. For Eleanor, Redstone's offerings ensured she "wouldn't be a burden to her sister and brother-in-law as they grew older."

Barb recalled how hard it was at the beginning. Not only was the building brand new, it was huge and they "didn't really know anybody." Protocol allowed for no more than four residents to move in to the new building per day. Since residents had five floors of apartments from which to choose their new quarters, Judy remembers those first few nights as being a bit

is a PIONEER

disconcerting. "They were a little scary. Scary because of how spaced out and far apart we were from each other!"

The apartments filled quickly and with them came new faces and new personalities. In fact, everyone in the group agrees this is one of the best "changes for good" at Redstone. With each new resident who moves in comes an opportunity for a new friendship.

The pioneers are also grateful for the resident committees that have formed in response to resident needs. When they wanted more input into meals, a food committee was formed. When they wanted more ownership over worship and religious activities, Marge's late husband and "resident pastor," the Rev. Mark Landfried, created the Spiritual Life committee. Marge still faithfully serves on this committee and has graciously accompanied worship services on the piano or organ for 19 years.

A social committee has also helped to shape community. Rosemary recalls the "Happy Hours" that some of the early residents organized in the Arts & Crafts room. "We would all bring food and drinks to share with each other. Those times were great but kind of faded out. Adding the Highlanders a few years ago has given us a special place for bringing back some of that fun!" Other "changes for good" include the renovated dining room (with fireplace, warming station, television, and new furniture).

As much as our pioneers continue to enjoy life at Redstone, they acknowledge not everything is easy. Having lived in a close-knit community for 18 years—and having been here since day one—they've blessed to form more friendships than many people do in entire lifetimes. Unfortunately, they also have said good-bye many more times, too. Since this article was written, we have had to say goodbye to Jean Barnett, who we remember quite fondly as part of our Redstone family. Sometimes those goodbyes have been with staff members. As with most workplaces, there are few employees who stay at one location for 19 years.

This group of pioneers knows the necessity of taking the good and enjoyable alongside the sometimes difficult: friends move on, costs increase, technology changes, mobility becomes more difficult. Each and every one of our pioneers emphatically said they would move into Redstone again in a heartbeat if they had it all over to do again. For that, and for each of them, we are grateful!

Carol Slonecker describes the North Huntingdon Villa Homes as much more than a retirement community. Throughout the years, residents have bonded over meals, traditions, trips, and other events. They have seen the villas develop into a tight-knit neighborhood.

When Carol first moved into the villas, she found a community that was always there for each other. "We are all on an even par, we came here for the same reason, and age doesn't matter," she says. "We aren't managers, professors, teachers, or steelworkers. We are neighbors, here for each other."

Since villa residents live independently, the neighborhood has formed around their many festive parties and activities. Some events are led by Redstone staff, but residents create and lead many of the beloved community gatherings.

One of the most popular events, organized each month by Kathy Flebotte, is Happy Hour, the villa community pot luck. Different dishes and desserts are paired with some kind of entertainment, like presentations or storytelling. "It's a time to get together and share what is going on with each other and some great food," Carol says.

Outside of Happy Hour, the community looks forward to countless other events throughout the year. Taska Smola invites neighbors to her driveway to watch Fourth of July fireworks; Carol Jacobs organizes monthly luncheons; and Kathy Sullenberger, with Taska, holds weekly croquet games after dinner, to name just a few get-togethers.

(Carol took charge to beautify part of the neighborhood's outdoor space.) Afternoon strolls are a common activity, and the garden turned out to be a focal point for walks and served as a venue for neighbors to gather and chat. Once the garden was cleaned out last fall, Carol collected ideas and materials for the space and decided to decorate the tree for Christmas.

Neighbors couldn't find a good source of electricity to run a string of lights around the tree, but that didn't stop them. They brought flash lights to illuminate the tree and celebrated with prayers, carols, and hot chocolate. The first "Light Up Night" brought even more warmth to the Christmas season, all thanks to the villa residents coming together.

For Kathy and Dick Cooper, the Western Pennsylvania community was new to them when they moved to the neighborhood seven years ago from Ohio to be closer to their son. But quickly, the villa neighborhood became home. "Due to the activities and the continuous closeness of our properties we know everyone by name," Kathy says.

The Coopers have hosted Sunday movie nights for the neighborhood and participate in almost every other community event. "We appreciate Redstone and thoroughly enjoy residents here on the villa campus, including those who have shared interests with in theater, concerts, and opera off campus," Kathy says.

is a FRIEND

She and Dick often attend the different travel outings hosted by Redstone, including day and overnight trips in Pittsburgh and the surrounding areas. "We look forward to places we have never been and those we have visited in the past," she says.

"With building traditions and friendships comes the constant support for one another that the villa community embodies," Carol says. "When my husband died, the compassion and support from people I had only known for a little over a year was as deep as those of longevity."

The support of a true neighborhood—and all of the fun that comes with it—has become an essential part of the villa community and will only continue to grow.

"Due to the activities and the continuous closeness of our properties we know everyone by name."

EVERY PERSON MATTERS: SERVING the COMMUNITY

Nonprofit organizations exist to serve the community. As we provide care and services at Redstone, we seek to serve the residents within our communities, our employees and their families, the families of our residents, and those in the external community who benefit from Redstone's presence. Redstone serves the community in a variety of ways—a generous program of Benevolent Care for residents in need, hosting programs open to seniors from the community, supporting local charities, sharing our facilities, sponsoring educational programs, nurturing volunteerism, and employing a strong consumer workforce that impacts the region are all part of creating Redstone's commitment to the community.

- Annually, Redstone provides $2 million in Benevolent Care to residents in need. Direct Benevolent Care supports Independent and Personal Care residents who have depleted their assets through no fault of their own. Indirect Care forgives the difference between the Medicaid reimbursement rate and the true cost per day of the stay for residents in the nursing home. Benevolent Care is at the heart of who we are as Redstone; and we are proud to serve the community in this way. Generous gifts help to make this care possible.
- Redstone Gives is a program that brings residents and employees together to raise money for several local charities. In recent years, our charities of choice have included the Alzheimer's Association, Relay for Life, Benevolent Care at Redstone, PA Wounded

Warriors, Rocky Bleier Service Dogs, Westmoreland County Food Bank, and Westmoreland Humane Society.

- Traditionally, Redstone has offered a number of fitness and wellness programs that benefit the greater community. Seniors visited our communities to participate in exercise and a variety of programs. Redstone@Home offered blood pressure checks and opportunities to talk with nurses in community settings including Pershing Square and the the Norwin Resource Center. Groups dealing with bereavement, dementia, and Parkinson's Disease met regularly on our Redstone campuses. COVID has forced some of these programs to be put on hold, but we look forward to their return.

- Redstone is happy to open our spaces to community organizations who share in our mission. In the past years we provided space for Red Hats groups, retirement clubs, card clubs, crocheting groups, art shows, and other who have benefited from the use of Redstone's beautiful spaces. Prior to COVID, we averaged more than 1,000 hours of donated building use annually, with a value of at least $100,000 in community support.
- Redstone lives out its commitment to lifelong learning through a nursing scholarship program, CPR training for employees, and the like. These educational programs don't just build a stronger Redstone, but a stronger region.
- Throughout 2018 and 2019, our 200+ volunteers donated more than 5,000 hours of their time annually by working in the gift shops, reading to visually challenged residents, leading sing-a-longs, teaching classes, bringing pets for pet therapy, and in many other ways. In 2020, for the most part our volunteer program was limited to the loyal volunteer visitor hosts who helped to facilitate in-person family visits when possible. We thank all of our volunteers who have given so generously of their time and talents! We can't wait to welcome you back!

- Redstone employees serve the community by acting as mentors for college students, working with interns, serving on local boards and with organizations like the Rotary, Chamber of Commerce, churches, and in many other ways. And of course, wages paid to 500 employees of Redstone, Redstone@Home, and Morrison Community Living results in more than $15 million annually injected into the local economy; not to mention the millions of dollars in outside services and supplies purchased from local vendors. Redstone's economic impact on the local community is significant.
- Through our programs, our facilities, and our people, Redstone is grateful to serve and support the local communities, along with the individuals entrusted to our care. The season of COVID has been a challenge, but we are committed to the local community and look forward to stronger engagement in the future. Every person does matter as we live out our commitment to service!

1 January – Redstone's Board of Directors and Leadership Team participated in an annual two day planning retreat. We are proud to be planning for our current and future residents, as well as our region! (left to right: Deb Thompson President of Strategy Solutions, CEO John Dickson, Board Chair Chuck West, VP Redstone@Home Geoff Gehring, Board Member Tyler Jones, Esq., and Board Member Jim Gallagher).

2 February – Resident Terry De Glau had an incredible career in photography. In a special presentation, he showed his fellow residents the CNN story about the time that he photographed the 200 leaders of the United Nations. Terry was a beloved member of our community until his death in 2019. He is missed.

3 April – Redstone Goes Trips & Tours takes residents, employees, and friends of Redstone on exciting adventures, with proceeds benefiting Benevolent Care. In April, a full bus traveled to Chicago to enjoy an incredible production of Hamilton. While COVID-19 has canceled our travels for the past year and a half, we look forward to being back on the road. #StayAdventurous!

4 May – Redstone hosted the annual Chairman's Appreciation at Lakeview Events Center in Greensburg. This luncheon honors members of Redstone's Legacy Society, our major donors, and our volunteers. This year's whimsical theme was "We DONUT know what we would do without you." Donut décor and edible centerpieces added to the fun. This year's Chairman's Appreciation Award went to longtime beloved Board member, John Parker, MD. Dr. Parker has served Redstone exceptionally well through the giving of his time, talents, and treasures.

Marcia is dearly missed. It was a very special day for Redstone.

3 March – On March 13, it became clear that Redstone would have to close our doors to visitors for the Nursing and Personal Care Homes. It was a sad day for all of us.

As residents struggled with isolation, our Lifestyle Team became more creative. Hallway Bingo was just one of the many popular pandemic activities that filled the time!

When it proved that masks mattered in the reduction of the spread of COVID-19, surgical masks were in short supply. We will always be grateful to the small army of volunteers who sewed and donated thousands of colorful masks for Redstone employees and residents. These efforts really did help to keep our communities safer in the early days of the pandemic.

4 April – Although celebrated under isolation, Easter was a joyous time with employees participating in Easter Bonnet parades. Families and community members donated mountains of candy to be distributed to residents.

5 May – Visiting took on new forms when we were able to bring residents and family members together. Window, outdoor, and virtual visits were key as we learned new ways of being together.

6 July – Working in SeniorCare proved to be very hard—yet rewarding—work during the COVID-19 pandemic. We are grateful for our Redstone heroes, as well as the residents, families, and community members who celebrated our employees so graciously during this time. A small band of employees took on the role of doing personal shopping for residents to further protect our high-risk communities from COVID-19. These shoppers were heroes, too!

7 August – Just like the kids in school, we learned to ZOOM in 2020. Board and management meetings, as well as family visits with residents were conducted in new ways via this technology. We are grateful that we could stay “together”!

8 November – With state restrictions for gathering in place, and out of concern for those who usually attend our Highlands Fling fundraising gala, we “pivoted” our event to a virtual event in November of 2020. A video celebrating our 40th anniversary, testimonials from celebrities, auctions, and raffles made for a fun celebration, even via the Internet. We are so grateful to all those who donated so generously in this unusual circumstance. We raised $102,207.32 and look forward to celebrating our 40+1 Ruby Redstone Ball on November 20, 2021!

9 December – We are grateful to Amerisafe for bringing safe hug stations to our Redstone campuses over the holidays. While the concept may seem unusual, families and residents were grateful for the opportunities to safely hold hands, hug, and be face-to-face for the first time in months. Although different, Christmas 2020 was spectacular as always at Redstone. We’re grateful for the beautiful decorations hung with love and the generous contributions given for resident Christmas stockings and gifts. Santa was quarantined and stayed away, but we are confident he’ll be back in 2021!

EVERY PERSON has a LEGACY

The past year and a half have certainly shown us that life is unpredictable. Planning for our financial futures can be intimidating and uncertain. Part of living in community at Redstone means practicing good stewardship of the resources that we have. Even in uncertain times, we know that planning deliberately for the legacy that we will one day leave is an act of faith, hope, and love. Planning our legacy gives us an opportunity to think about the message that we want to leave at the end of our lives, as we decide what to do with our resources that remain.

Even in uncertain times, we know that planning deliberately for the legacy that we will one day leave is an act of faith, hope, and love.

In addition to leaving an inheritance to family members, many choose to include charitable organizations in their legacy plans. Sometimes this is motivated by sound financial planning due to tax implications. For most of us, however, choosing to leave a legacy gift to a charity that is important to us is purely a decision of the heart. Here at Redstone, we are blessed to receive legacy gifts from residents on a regular basis. These gifts make such a difference in the lives of residents who receive benevolent care, and as we plan for the future here.

Most of Redstone's legacy gifts come in the form of simple bequests, from those who have included a certain dollar amount or a percentage of the residual of their estate for Redstone in their will. Some residents have named Redstone the beneficiary of a life insurance policy or a retirement account. Sometimes, payments for a life insurance policy may be used as a charitable gift, thereby leveraging your annual gift to eventually provide a legacy gift. Others create an income stream for the rest of their lives by establishing a Charitable Gift Annuity, with the residual of that annuity going to Redstone.

For residents, another way to make a legacy gift is to sign our simple "Gift Remainder Form." This form states that all or a portion of the remainder of a resident's account is to be given to Redstone as a legacy gift.

Legacy Gifts may be designated for the Benevolent Care Endowment Fund or may be used for current projects. A donor may also indicate that they want their gift to be used for something like employee scholarships, chapel programs, etc. Whatever way in which you choose to make a legacy gift, and for whatever purpose you designate your gift, those who tell us that their intention is to make such a gift are included in Redstone's Toman Legacy Society. We hope that you are willing to share your legacy plans with us during your life time so that we can celebrate and thank you for your future gift.

To explore the many possibilities of how you might leave a legacy gift to Redstone, please contact VP for Mission Support Lisa Dormire at 724-832-8401 Ext. 3353.

AN HONOR ROLL of DONORS

Board of Directors

Redstone Highlands is blessed by the completely voluntary service of a creative and concerned Board of Directors. In addition to their time, members of the Board also make generous gifts to support Redstone's mission. Our thanks for all that they do cannot be expressed strongly enough.

The Dorothy A. Toman Legacy Society

Dorothy Toman resided on the Greensburg campus from 1996 until the time of her death in 2001. Grateful for the care that she received, Dorothy made a substantial legacy gift to Redstone Highlands. In 2006, the Toman Legacy Society was established in her honor. Membership in the Society is open to anyone who has indicated that they have made a Planned or Estate Gift to Redstone Highlands.

Friends

The “Friends of Redstone” provide a backbone of support for all that we do. We are grateful to the former residents, the family members of current and former residents, the community leaders, and all those who simply believe in the Redstone mission, who have given generously. These gifts, along with your prayers and encouragement, sustain us.

Memorial Gifts

Many of the gifts that Redstone receives are given “In Memory” of a loved one, friend, neighbor, or colleague. We give thanks for the lives of all of those who have been remembered in this way. We also want to express our heartfelt thanks to those donors who have chosen to remember in a way that touches the lives of our residents.

Gift-In-Kind Donations

Throughout the course of the year, many non-cash gifts are given to Redstone. These gifts come in many forms, including:

- Items donated for auctions or raffles at the Highlands Fling
- Food products donated for various events
- Lovingly made lap robes and blankets

- Stocking stuffers for Harbor residents
- Special snack items for the staff at the holidays
- Furnishings of former residents
- Services by a variety of vendors

Each of these, and the many other Gift-in-Kind donations, touch and enrich the lives of everyone within the Redstone family. Thank you for your generosity.

YOU MATTER

I wrote this little essay on my Facebook page back on March 18, 2020. I want to share it with you:

I think in allegories. All. The. Time. This is like . . . That is like . . . This feels like . . . Maybe it is because I have always loved Jesus' parables. And I've been trying to come up with my allegory for this crazy time. Because that helps me. And I think I've got it.

Do you remember playing Red Rover as a kid? I don't think kids play it anymore because it is kind of like endorsed physical bullying, and that's not good. But I remember playing it in gym class and hating it. HATING IT. Because often I was a target for the one "coming over" because I wasn't strong, and my section of the human chain was easiest to break through.

Lately, life—my work life at Redstone—has begun to feel like a big giant scary game of Red Rover. We still go to work every day. And the most amazing people I know are lining up, shoulder to shoulder, determined, using every ounce of strength in us to form a chain that cannot be broken. A chain of protection. A chain of safety, around the seniors we care for. And that big giant bully kid trying to crash through our line . . . you know him. You've heard of him. His name is COVID-19.

We are doing EVERYTHING in our power to keep the chain strong and unbroken. To somehow, against the odds, win this "game." And those of you who are self-isolating, canceling events, staying home . . . you're in the game with us, and I thank you so much. Because the line gets stronger when everyone is in.

Like I said, I hated playing Red Rover as a child. I was terrified every moment of the game. Pretty much like how we feel right now. But our line is built. Our team is in place. We stand shoulder to shoulder. We have a good plan. And we wait. We really are all in this together. Protecting the most fragile. Protecting our loved ones and the strangers. May God give us strength as we each hold tight to one another as the bully kid runs our way.

I can't believe it has been a year and a half since I wrote that. The line was very hard to hold, as you well know. Considering all that we have seen, Redstone was very fortunate, with fairly small numbers of cases. For the most part, the incredible efforts of our team members, residents, and families held that line. But there were occasional breaches—and every life lost to this disease, and every resident or employee who struggled under COVID's grip, matter to us. We acknowledge the pain and the sorrow and the loneliness that have been experienced by so many over the past year.

I've never in my entire career of ministry, fundraising, and non-profit leadership been prouder to be a part of an organization. I have witnessed tremendous personal sacrifice, leadership, and love at work as this team ferociously protects the residents. I've also witnessed external prejudice against seniorcare organizations, particularly nursing homes, as they have been vilified for being the "epicenter" of the coronavirus in some communities, as if this virus was taken on by choice. As if this role was taken on by choice. This pandemic has illuminated the lack of support given to seniors across the country.

In the face of ALL OF THIS, this annual report stands as a testimony to an amazing organization, and an even more amazing group of supporters who believe in and support our mission. You have given of your time, talent, and treasure in so many ways. And Redstone is the organization that it is because of each of you.

Almost simultaneous with this pandemic, we rolled out a new "slogan"—Redstone: Where Every Person Matters. This pandemic has proven that this is way more than a slogan. Every resident, every employee, every family member, every Board member, every donor, every person who prays for us, every person who believes in this organization . . . matters. Every person matters. You matter.

It is a privilege to share this mission with you. Thank you for your generous support.

REDSTONE OVERVIEW

On an annual basis, Redstone Presbyterian SeniorCare serves more than 2,000 seniors . (During 2020 this number was reduced because we were not able to welcome seniors from the external community to participate in our programs.) 500 people are employed at Redstone. Over 1,000 people make gifts of support annually. Prior to the pandemic, over 200 volunteers gave of their time.
